Liability Protection

The Bill Emerson Good Samaritan Act protects donors of food from liability when donated to a non-profit organization that ultimately distributes to needy individuals. Should the food make someone ill, the donor is protected from civil and criminal liability as long as they donated the food “in good faith”, meaning they fully believed the food was safe to consume. Methods to maintain food safety such as refrigeration, need to be followed throughout the duration of the donation process. Liability protection is extended to donations made by restaurants, retail grocers, manufacturers, caterers, food trucks, food banks, farmers, gleaners, schools, and food service companies such as corporations, partnerships, organizations, and associations.

Volunteers Needed!

Make a BIG IMPACT in Iowa Falls with just a tiny fraction of your time at the end of the farmers market!

The Iowa Falls Farmers Market offers handmade, home baked, and wholesome grown food that help support local farmers, food artisans and the economy. You can help support your community by volunteering just a bit of your time to:

- Donate leftover edible foods at the conclusion of the farmers market.
- Collect leftover edible foods from vendors at the conclusion of the farmers market and transport them to a local food bank, pantry, community meal site, or soup kitchen.

Are you a vendor?
Please consider donating leftover edible foods at the conclusion of the farmers market.

Do you have a few free minutes at the conclusion of your local farmers market?
We are looking for volunteers to collect leftover edible foods from vendors at the end of the farmers market and transport it to a local food pantry that feeds Iowa Falls’ food insecure.
